

Woman I Know

Chris Grey & The BlueSpand

You've been knocking round my door
But girl you've been walking, why're you coming back for more?
Tried so hard to please you, girl
Why're you giving me the blues?

Oh, many questions fall to the ground
Cause girl, you've been turning, you've been turning me around
Then you love me like it's all good
Still you're giving me the blues

When you say something is wrong
And you say I'm doing it wrong
Oh, you say everything's gone
Woman I know
Woman I know

Some say it's hopeless – a waste of time
For the love I ever trusted girl, you were on my mind
I'm dreaming 'bout our love songs
But you're giving me the blues

Well minutes seems like hours and hours like days
Girl, when you started with your low down ways
Like all you ever care for
That I'm living with the blues

When you say something is wrong
And you say I'm doing it wrong
Yeah, you say everything's gone
Woman I know
